

WEEE Directive (Waste Electrical and Electronic Equipment)

On the 2 January 2007 the UK enacted the Waste Electrical and Electronic Equipment (WEEE) Directive requiring all electrical products to be recycled at the end of their useful life. The regulations set rules for the collection and disposal of electrical waste along with the paperwork required to prove compliance. All producers are responsible for applying this legislation. The WEEE Directive applies to all plug-in integral commercial refrigeration.

There are two choices when purchasing a new cabinet:

Either: to take the responsibilities under the WEEE legislation to finance the future collection and recycling of the product when it reaches the end of its life

Or: to pay the WEEE charge when purchasing the equipment and the WEEE responsibilities for recovery and recycling at end of life will remain with Phoenix Retail Services Ltd.

Please tick the appropriate box below and return this form to Phoenix Retail Services Ltd.
